June 7 2002- SUPERB INTERNET OFFERS NEW EMAIL ANTI-VIRUS PROTECTION

Vancouver, BC – June 7, 2002

Superb Internet Corporation, a world leader of quality managed hosting and e-commerce solutions, announced today that a new email anti-virus protection service is being added to their already extensive array of hosting services. In the company's relentless pursuit of continuously seeking to provide leading edge hosting services, their new offering has met with the instantaneous approval of the hosting marketplace.

"Delivering quality service to the marketplace is the reason why we built Superb Internet," professes Haralds Jass, Superb Internet's President and CEO. "We always strive to be 'Ahead of the Rest'® in our industry and consequently, we are very pleased to announce that we are one of the first hosting companies to provide anti-virus services, thus providing secure E-mail and peace of mind for our hosting customers."

The complexity and number of email viruses and other system-destroying bugs has grown dramatically in the past few years and unless you catch a virus seconds before it infects your system, the results can be catastrophic. No longer is merely having anti-virus software on your system enough protection. Unless the virus is stopped before it is uploaded, your entire operating system and your valuable data is at risk.

"Recent market studies along with our customer surveys clearly demonstrated that hosting customers rank email viruses as one of their major concerns," according to Curtis R. Curtis, VP Sales & Marketing. "Now with the addition of our new email anti-virus services, our customers will be assured that their systems will be free of viruses and other malicious programs that can arrive via email."
