September 9, 2002 - Superb Internet offers Dedicated & Colocated traffic for under $1/GB

Washington, DC – September 9, 2002

Superb Internet Corporation, a world leading provider of fully managed web hosting solutions, announced today that it will be now offering full-redundant, tier-1 network traffic for under \$1/GB for Dedicated and Colocated servers.

“We are pleased to continue leading the industry in terms of quality of service - we have one of, if not the, best performing redundant networks, connecting directly to six of world's largest, major tier 1 providers, providing direct routes to 90%+ of end users - as well as in terms of price, being the first provider to offer top-quality, redundant, major tier-1 network traffic at rates that are truly ahead of our competition,” states Haralds Jass, Superb Internet’s President and CEO. “At Superb, we are true to our motto, ‘Ahead of the Rest®.’”

Superb Internet offers a wide variety of dedicated & managed dedicated services located in their state-of-the-art data facility in Washington, DC. In addition to these new extremely low traffic rates; Superb Internet offers new super-fast Pentium 4 and Xeon dedicated servers, available both in Linux/BSD, as well as Windows 2000 configurations -- starting at only $150/month. For those customers who have specialized requirements Superb Internet provides a Dedicated Server Wizard that allows the client to custom build their own server. These new special rates are available to all customers who sign a one-year term-contract and are volume-based. Superb Internet continues to offer its standard month-to-month no-term-contract service at its previous rates, too.

“In our relentless pursuit to offer a better value proposition to our customers while ensuring that we deliver the highest level of Internet connectivity by locating at a major crossroad of the Internet, MAE East, we are extremely proud to now deliver our superior connectivity at these new prices,” affirms Curtis R. Curtis, VP Sales & Marketing. “We have once more raised the bar in the hosting industry for dedicated and colocated customers demanding the most out of their hosting provider.”
